THEATRICAL NOTES

AT THE KENTUCKY.

New Year's, Matinee and Night—William Owen in "Romeo and Juliet." Wednesday Night—Bob Fitzsimmons in "A Fight for Love."
Thursday Night—"The Umpire." Friday Night—Modjeska in "Mary Stuart."

New Year's Attraction.

Nothing in the whole range of the drama can equal Shakespeare's immortal tragedy "Romeo and Juliet." The first rise of the curtain to the first act grips the attention of the spectator with its glowing pictures of the love of two young souls separated by nature for each other, circumstances separate them, but cannot faint their love. They are in the heart of the world and move their fate heroically. The variety in characterization of which the modern audience seek to find is found in this play; we have not only the heroic figures of Romeo and Juliet but the bright and sparkling wit of the merry Mercutio. As the contrast to Juliet we have the funny fat old nurse. We have not only the wise Friar Lawrence but the foolish Peter. In the direct contrast to the lover Romeo we have the fiery Tybalt. The serious interest of the piece is lightened by the laughter that accompanies it.

"A Fight for Love."

Bob Fitzsimmons in Hal Reid's play, "A Fight for Love," will be seen at The Kentucky on next Wednesday night. This is not a play for which everything is claimed, but it has proven itself to be a thoroughly strong entertainment of the melodramatic kind. It is of that order of plays that thrill one moment by its highly wrought up scenes and situations and the next plunge an audience into laughter by its comedy.
There is no strain in the effort in this play; all of its exciting scenes are the natural working out of a well conceived plot. Among the strong scenes introduced are the blacksmith shop in which Mr. Fitzsimmons makes a real horseshoe and nails it to the hoof in view of the audience, a realistic gymnasium scene in which "Bob" introduces his wonderful bagpunching, and incidental to the play, a three-round glove contest between Mr. Fitzsimmons and his sparring partner. The leading female role is entrusted to Julia May Gifford, a gifted young emotional actress, of rare good looks. Not one piece of house scenery is used for the production, the company, which is under the direction of J. C. Matthews, carrying everything including properties and electrical effects.

"The Umpire."

What promises to be a notable engagement at The Kentucky is that of Miss Modjeska.

"The Umpire," which comes on Thursday night. This musical comedy boasts the prestige of the longest run in the history of Chicago theatricals, and by those who have seen it it is pronounced worthy in every way of its extraordinary vogue. The elements which combine to give "The Umpire" this popularity are the modern nature of its themes—the national games, baseball and football politics, "graft," diplomacy and other subjects of current interest, together with its music and its comedy, both of which are in the first of their class. No musical comedy ever produced in the past decade contains so many song hits as "The Umpire," and the score is considered the master achievement of its composer, Joseph E. Howard. It is enough to know that the comedy kept Chicago laughing for nearly a year. The production is under the direction of Manager Harry Askin of the Grand opera house, Chicago, which assures a rich equipment of scenery and costumes. In the company selected to play the piece are Max, late leading comedian of the "Ziegfeld Follies," Edna, a former Queen Baker, who created and played the part of Little Mary W. Savage in the "Peggy from Paris" for two seasons, Harry Hanlon, Bradlee Martin, Katherine Bonn, George Damerel, Bert Young, Helena Salinger, W. H.

Brown, Jessie Huston and others, including the beauty chorus of sixty and the "brothers."

All Classes Eager to See Modjeska.
Modjeska in "Mary Stuart" is the marquee which will attract all classes of playgoers to The Kentucky next Friday night. The regular theatergoers and the occasional attendant

Edith Yerrington as "Lady Fitzbush" in "The Umpire," at The Kentucky Thursday night.

upon theatrical productions will sit side by side that night and join in homage to this celebrated woman.
This occasion will be their final opportunity to be inspired and ennobled by perhaps the ripest and most intellectual art known to the contemporary stage. For Modjeska is now on her final American tour and this will be her last appearance in this city. She presents her greatest piece, "Mary Stuart." The Knights of Columbus will purchase 200 tickets.

Tim Murphy's Return.

The return of Tim Murphy is always a rib tickler. Since the passing of Joseph Jefferson and Sam Smith Russell, there is no other comedian who combines in so admirable a degree the faculty of drawing smiles and tears as Mr. Murphy. Like Russell and John T. Raymond, he has always devoted himself to the interpretation of American humor, for he has long acted along the line suggested by Henry Arthur Jones, the great English dramatist, in his lecture before Harvard University, that if America is to have a drama it must be found in the heart and home of Americans. Mr. Murphy is at present playing the highly successful dramatization of Cyrus Townsend Bradley's story, "A Corner in Coffee," which appeared in Smart Set, in which the efforts of Jim Johnstone, returned from a bonanza mining expedition in Brazil, seeks to square his native qualities with the conventional elegance of New York society.
Mr. Murphy has also delighted his audiences with a rare triple bill which is supplemented by his appearance in his celebrated imitation of Sir Henry Irving's Mathias in
"The Bells."

"Isle of Spice."

Amusement lovers must not lose sight of the fact that the "Isle of Spice," the elaborate scenic and musical production, will be at The Kentucky next Saturday, matinee and night. There will be over 60 people dressed in elaborate costumes.

Mormons in Alabama.

There are now about 1,200 Mormons in Alabama. The 12 Mormon missionaries on duty in the state held a conference at Montgomery last week. They had with them a delegation from Utah—Apostles George A.
Smith and ex-Congressman Brigham H. Roberts. To a Montgomery Times man the former representative of the was expelled from the nation talked about the Smoot case. "Smoot has only one wife," he said, "and it is conceded by his accusers that he has never committed an unseemly act. His wife and mine were different. I was not a Mormon when I was married. I was a man and my wife was a woman.
A man is never too busy to listen to the lady on the dollar sign."

COUNCIL CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS

Passes License Ordinance on Two Readings.

Some Object to Restrictions on the Wholesalers and Druggists, but Submit.

FIREMEN NEED PAY NO BOND.

The board of councilmen passed the license ordinance last night as quickly as it could be read, and as soon as the meeting was adjourned President George O. M'Broom signed the measure. This was the main business of the called session.

Councilman Van Meter was absent.
Mayor Yeiser read his call, for the purpose of giving passage to the license ordinance.

The board concurred in the action of the upper board in exempting city firemen from bonds.

Councilman Samuel Hill read the license ordinance.

Councilman Hill moved that the ordinance be given first passage.

Councilman Oehlschlaeger called the board's attention to the fact that "clubs" and "saloon men," who are charged a license of $150 per annum, and that one class is restricted while the other, i. e., quart liquor dealers and druggists, must sell not less than a quart. He intimated class legislation.

Councilman Katterjohn coincided with Councilman Oehlschlaeger.

Councilman Oehlschlaeger insisted on a uniformity of liquor license, taking the view that the quart liquor dealer can not sell by the drink, while retailers may sell within a hundredth part of 5 gallons which would be encroaching on the rights of the "quart liquor dealers" or the "whole-salers."

Councilman Katterjohn didn't like the "wholesaler" or the "druggist" provisions, but declared he would vote for it because it was "better than the ordinance of last year."

The ordinance passed on its first reading unanimously.

The board then adjourned.

Second Meeting.

Mayor Yeiser asked that the board be called together again.

He then read his call for the purpose of giving the ordinance second passage.

The rules were suspended and the ordinance was given second reading by title.

On motion the board adjourned.

CHEAP LOW PRICED SMALL HOMES

Near city, fertile, high, dry land, in best neighborhood;
Have just platted into lots of about five acres each the 240 acre (Williams) tract, joining the Pines lands on west. Bounded next to city by Perkins Creek and Pines lands between, Buckner Lane Road and Hinkleville Gravel Road. Has 4138 feet frontage on Buckner Lane Road, said road just graveled. In front of this land, Has 757 feet front on Hinkleville Gravel Road, and plat gives 40 feet cross roads through the tract, so that each and every lot fronts either on these gravel roads or these newly opened roads. Most of the lots front at each end on these roads. No nicer land in Mc-Cracken county. The 20 acres front on Hinkleville road has nice grove of forest trees on it and lays so as to make ideal residence sites.

Price on the Hinkleville road front is $100.00 per acre, of which $10 acre cash and balance in monthly or quarterly payments running five years. All other lots $65 acre on same terms. While these prices are uniform, there is difference in desirability of lots and first customers get choice. Come and see plat and list men who have taken dozen lots before I could get the parcels staked off. For home or investment lots you lose opportunity if you fail to take this. On one lot is new 5-room house which is priced at $800 additional to cost of land at $65 acre.
